

MAKES HARD WORK HARDER

A bad back makes a day's work twice as hard. Backache usually comes from weak kidneys, and if headaches, dizziness or urinary disorders are added, don't wait—get help before the kidney disease takes a grip—before dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease sets in. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought new life and new strength to thousands of working men and women. Used and recommended the world over.

AN ILLINOIS CASE

Q. L. Farrand, 1129 Sixth Ave., Moline, Ill., says: "My business required much horseback riding and the constant jar weakened my kidneys. I had terrible backaches and was often laid up for months. I couldn't turn in bed without help. I lost flesh. Three doctors treated me, but I got worse. Finally, I took Doan's Kidney Pills and five boxes cured me. I have since enjoyed good health."

NAIL AS KNOWN TO COMMERCE

Some Few Facts With Which Users of the Articles Will Be More or Less Familiar.

A nail is a short piece of iron which a man uses to aim at while he is hammering his thumb.

Nails come in various sizes. A tack is a baby nail which is fond of standing upon its head in the dark when you are turkey-trotting around the room in bare feet, trying in vain to locate an electric button. An adult nail is two or three inches long and comes in boxes which are sent to you by express upon which you have to pay the charges, which have already been collected by the express company at the other end. Not being able to find the hammer, you vainly endeavor to extract this nail and others of its kind from the box, both with and without prayer, until you finally succeed in wrenching the top off the box with superhuman strength while your wife looks on with superb disdain.

Nails are also used to build houses, as sinkers on fish lines, and when applied internally to the feet, to promote and foster lockjaw.

They come in vast quantities in hardware and department stores, but when you want just one to drive into the bathroom wall during your wife's absence to hang a razor strap on, you might as well look for a needle in a haystack or a square deal in a state legislature.—Life.

Stable Locked.

"When did you learn that he was one of the bank's most trusted employees?"

"The day after he absconded with the funds."

Alibi.

"Rastus, what's an alibi?"
"Dat's provin' dat yoh was at a prayer meetin' whar yoh wasn't in order to show dat yoh wasn't at de crap game whar yoh was."

The time you can depend upon a woman is when you are sick or in trouble.

NOME, ALASKA, IS WRECKED

Fire and Storm Devastated the Northern Gold Camp—People Are in Great Need.

Nome, Alaska.—Fire has broken out in the storm stricken city of Nome and the flames have attacked the Pacific Cold Storage plant, where is stored the chief supply of meat for the winter. The fire apparatus was destroyed in the gale.

Front street is a seething mass of wreckage, into which seas are breaking, while hundreds of homeless persons are struggling to save necessities of life. Rceding seas are carrying away the contents of wrecked houses and stores, as well as parts of wrecked structures.

None of the buildings on the Sand-spit remain standing and the leveled structures there are in flames. This part of the community is cut off by the turbulent waters.

The storm that began beating in from Bering Sea was the worst ever known here. Men and women worked all night in the icy water to save their household effects. The electric plant was wrecked and telephone service cut off. The loss is estimated at 1½ million dollars.

There will be much suffering and outside help will be required. Winter is at hand and it will be impossible to get in supplies needed.

ASKED AID OF REPUBLICANS

Testimony Shows Sulzer Tried to Get Help From Root and Chairman Barnes.

Albany, N. Y.—Gov. William E. Sulzer attempted to obtain the influence of United States Senator Elihu Root and of William Barnes, chairman of the Republican state committee, to prevent the trial of his impeachment, according to testimony adduced at the trial, although subsequently stricken out by vote of the court. Allen A. Ryan, son of Thomas F. Ryan, a New York financier, gave the testimony.

It was also brought out through testimony of Ignatius V. McGlone, secretary of the elder Ryan, that Governor Sulzer was the recipient of a $10,000 cash campaign contribution from the Ryans, which was not reported in the governor's sworn campaign statement.

WILSON PLANS TRUST LAWS

President Confers With Senator Newlands Regarding Action at December Session.

Washington.—A start has been made by President Wilson on his anti-trust program for the December session of Congress. He had a long preliminary conference with Senator Newlands of Nevada, chairman of the interstate commerce committee, which handles trust legislation in the Senate.

The President expects to confer, also, in the near future, with Representative Clayton, chairman of the House judiciary committee, as well as with other members of the two congressional committees which will be directly in charge of the legislation. Senator Newlands said after the conference that he expected the President to transmit some recommendations to his committee early in the December session.

FRUIT LAXATIVE FOR SICK CHILD

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver and bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs" that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Adv.

Needle Travels Fifty Years.

L. G. Tibbals, sixty-one years old, of Norfolk, got a needle in his body more than half a century ago. A doctor has just extracted it in two parts from Tibbals' right elbow. It was corroded. In traveling through his body the needle had never given him any trouble until last spring, when he experienced a pricking sensation in the arm when he lifted anything. Recently the elbow began to swell. — Winsted (Conn.) Dispatch to the New York World.

Theory and Fact.

"What subject have you taken for your address at the Civic club?"

"Woman's moral obligations as a citizen."

"What a lovely subject! And what are you going to wear?"

"That new gown I brought home with me from Paris. And, just think, I had it so cleverly packed in with my old clothes that the custom house inspector never discovered it was there."

Her Dear Friends.

"I think Archie Allscads has made up his mind to marry," said the vivacious blonde.

"To marry Virgie Skeemer?" queried the sparkling brunette.

"Uh-huh."

"What symptoms do you notice?"

"Well, he wears a sort of resigned, what's-the-use expression on his face, and doesn't run when he sees her coming now."

At an elevation of 100 feet at sea the horizon is a little more than thirteen miles away.

And the Blind Could See.

That the day of miracles is not passed is the belief of a man who sat in upper Broadway, with green goggles on his eyes and a placard bearing the words "I am blind" hung on his neck. Pennies and nickels were being dropped into his tin cup by sympathetic passersby. Finally a woman dropped a quarter into the cup. A hobo standing near by saw the blind man, also the quarter that the woman dropped into the tin cup. And he deftly picked the quarter out. Then the "miracle" was performed. The goggles were thrown off and the blind man gave chase to the thief. It was a good race. The hobo was no slouch of a runner, but the blind man caught him after two blocks' run and got his quarter back. Then, with "I am blind" dangling from his neck, he started back to his stand. "Say, you can see pretty well for a blind man," said a man who had invested a nickel's worth of pity. "It's a miracle, that's what it is," said the blind man solemnly. "The shock of losing that quarter brought back my sight. It's just plumb wonderful."

Knew the Sex.

Wiseman—What did she say when you proposed?

Young—No, a thousand times, no!

Wiseman—Huh! All the same, I wouldn't risk asking her a second time if I were you.

Nice Distinction.

Lawyer—Do you mean to tell me the plaintiff was drunk!

Witness—Well, no; but you couldn't call him ostentatiously sober.—Judge.

Still Cheery.

"You are mistaken. He's incompetent, but not hopeless."

Hard to Please.

A typical "mover" of the ultra-shifless type was passing a few days at a cow camp in Arizona, preparatory to going into the desert on a prospecting trip. His wife, a tired out, faded creature, complained to some of the cowhands of the hardness of her lot; and the foreman took it upon himself to remonstrate with the husband for his shiftlessness and his indifference to his wife's welfare.

"The old woman ain't got no kick comin'!" said the husband when he had heard the foreman's remarks. "She ain't got no kick at all. Why, stranger, when we wuz fixin' to camp of a night many a time I've driv' the team half a mile out of the way so's wood and water would be handy fur the old woman to fetch!"—Saturday Evening Post.

Not for Public Gaze.

"George, there's a burglar in the house."

"Well, keep still. We've got nothing he'll steal."

"I know. But I left my corsets over the back of a chair, and I wouldn't have him see them for the world."

Misnomer.

"Why do they call us literary hacks?" asked the first writer.

"I give it up," said the second writer. "Goodness knows we don't earn as much as a hackman."

Too Much of It.

"Mirth reigned last night."

"Yes, and when I got home my wife stormed."
